Drawn to many natural subjects, Bivenne Staiger creates paintings of motifs she loves in watercolor, oil, pastel and scraperboard. Through her use of saturated color, strong value contrasts, line direction, and attention to detail, Bivenne's bold paintings are full of life.

A long-time juror and regional instructor in watercolor, Bivenne is an elected member of the Salmagundi Art Club, American Artists' Professional League, and Catharine Lorillard Wolfe Art Club in New York City; Academic Artists Association, Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts, and Connecticut Watercolor Society in Connecticut; and an Associate member of New England Watercolor Society and Northeast Watercolor Society.
